

Mr. Sheffner:

I suggest that the committee look at the District of Colorado. DOJ and the agency agree that no summons be issued and that the filing of the complaint is deemed served on the United States. That process saves the court and parties time and hassle resulting in some efficiencies. That process could be reduced to a nationwide rule.

Lawrence D. Rohlifing